IMPERIAL GUARD ANNIHILATED

New Army, Possibly Consisting of British Reinforcements. May be Marching From Coast Towards South-East

LONDON, Sept. 7.—(Hy Bulletin Leased Wire)—After despatch after despatch monotomously amounting an apparently unending German advance, London went wild with delight tonight over a message from Boulogue to the Evening News, amounting a victory by the alluef forces under Field forces, at Press, Sur-Gas, Jahou twenty-five miles north of Paris. Late advices tonight indicate that the Imperial German Guard, under the personal command of the Cown Prince, were annihilated by the British tropes, after predicting to surrender. Star the British official press bureau has not issued a confirmation of the despatch, but the French war office, more communicative, amountees that the allued forces, acting on the officies were have been successful in forcing back the German forces in a a confirmation of the despatch, but the French war office, more communicative, amounces that the allied forces, acting can the offensive, have been successful in forcing back the German forces in a northwestern direction.

For a time, at least, the tide seems to have turned, and the amouncement, brief and indefinite though it is, has kinded high hopes in Great Britain that the German steam roller has at last struck an impassable barrier which began on Saturday, and continued on Sinday, to the cost and northeast of the French capital, seems to have developed today into one of the higgset battley of the campaign. The armies of the allies are opposing the German advance over a front extending for about 129 miles. From Nanteuil le Hundoren, 2 omiles mortheast of Paris, to the great fortriss of Verdam, in the department of the Menes, and 20 miles vest of the German fortune. It is estimated unofficially that upwards of one million men are engaged in the flighting.

According to a Boulogue despatch, the allies were leavn across the northern line, with the centre at Presy. The British troops were on the left, and the French on the right. The forace had in front of them the German inperial Guard, under the Crown Prince, which is said to have been utterly rotted. The French also repulsed the Germans on the right, causing a general relievant along the whole line. The German inperial way be only temperary and unimportant, or it may mark the beginning of the end of their land rush. In some quarters it is asserted that the Hanking movement of the German right wing has been determined by operations of which little has been hard. The Germans, for instance, are no longer at Lilie. It would not be surprising if a new allied army in that quarter was advancing rapidly towards the southeast, according to the Dail yChemoile which goes not say: "Certainly grow in strength." The Star millary experts asys: "Has some movement been initiated from the coast, making the Germans swerve southeast ward from motives of precaution!"

Queen La Mode

The well-versed witness—you—must graciously admit a slight lack of information and come prepared to be initiated into the new teachings of the best millinery schools. Queen La Mode (also a teacher, just for the delight of it) never leaves the same things on her blackboard for two terms following. A few brief descriptions must suffice to entertain you here, until the curtain lifts bomorrow at 8:30. A Novelty Sailor of black velvet is erown, and binding of silver, enhanced trimmed with monkey fur and metal bow. with silver bullion tassels. It has a soft crumply crown.

A close-fitting Toque shape of black velvet has chamois crown and is trimmed with no less than ten bunches of cham-pagne tinted grapes.

A Polo All-Feather Hat is white with bird saucily posed in front.

ENTER: Women's Suits and Coats Totally Unlike Predecessors,—Remarkably Different!

Patterned in the new Redingote fashion, simulating Russian costumes and other military types—rather leading into new revolutionary modes of feminine dress than following old ideals. Plain tailored suits take on a new worth though not elipsing the vogue of more fancy styles. But you'll know so much better by seeing than by hearing.

Passing Comment
